The Fordyce Way to Close Out Coats, Suits and Furs

A PERSONAL STATEMENT

Since taking over the Osborne interest in this business, we have been making a great effort to realize sufficient money from the sale of merchandise to meet an obligation of over $40,000, before February 1st. Our reorganization sale is meeting with the greatest success, and we are doing the largest business in this store's history.

A day or two ago I asked for a list of coats and suits to show just what we had in the department. This list shows that we have about four times the stock of coats and suits that we should have at this time. I said to the Department Manager—"Something has got to be done to turn these goods into money. In the 28 years that I have been in the Dry Goods business in Youngstown, I have learned that the people will buy merchandise at any time if the price is low enough, and with such an overstock of coats and suits as you have in your department, cost or value cannot be taken into consideration in making prices to sell them out. We now propose to put these coats and suits into a few special lots as we used to years ago when I managed this department, and make the prices so low that the stock will be rapidly reduced."

GEO. L. FORDYCE.

Any Ladies' Winter Coat in the Store $20

GREENFORD

Jan. 11—Charles Welkart of Mineral Ridge, formerly of this place, recently underwent an operation for appendicitis in the Youngstown City hospital and many friends in this locality will be pleased that he is getting along nicely.

The fourth number of the lecture course will be given by Roy B. Bendell in K. of P. hall Saturday evening, Jan. 13. The entertainment promises to be one of the best of the course. Admission, 25c.

During December there were six births and three deaths in Green township. During the year there were 28 births and 18 deaths, as compared with 33 births and 19 deaths in 1910.

Mrs. Mary Roller, widow of the late Rev. W. B. Roller, one of the most highly esteemed women of this township, died Tuesday morning. Her maiden name was Welkart, and she was born in Green township June 26, 1828, consequently was in the 84th year of her age. Early in life she united with the Lutheran church of Greenford and was always a worthy and consistent member. She survived by three sons—M. L. of Leontonia, John H. of Columbiana and Delmer who resides on the home farm. Funeral services Thursday were conducted by her pastor, Rev. Daubenspeck, and burial was made in Oakland cemetery.

Ten inch ice is being cut from ponds in this vicinity.

Green township is well represented at the Agricultural and Home Makers' Schools being held in Canfield this week. No township in the county has farmers more interested in their vocation than Green. They employ up-to-date methods in their work.

El Callahan is on the sick list. Fred Mattix was in Youngstown Monday.

A. W. Cochel has purchased the Clark Calvin farm.

DAMASCUS

Mrs. Margaret Ann Blackburn of near Damascus died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ella Cobbs, Saturday evening, aged 80. She is survived by one son, Joseph of Salem, and the daughter with whom she made her home. Also a brother, Abram Sheets of Cleveland. The funeral was held from the home of Mrs. Cobbs, Rev. Pennington officiating.

The farm consisting of 47 acres owned by the late William Crum, and located one-half mile north of Damascus, was sold at public sale, Saturday afternoon for $125. The farm was sold in two tracts, one of 20 acres and the other 27 acres. It was sold by the heirs of the deceased. The purchasers it is stated, were Jesse Woolman, of Beloit, for the 17 acres and a Mr. Blackburn of Cleveland for the 20 acres.

Have an Object in Life. Live for something, have a purpose. And that purpose keep in view; Drifting like a helpless vessel. Thou can't never to life be true.

Half the wrecks that strew life's If some start had been their guide, Might have long been riding safely. But they drifted with the tide.

SHORT NEWS NOTES

Washington

Concerted advances in the freight rates on soft coal made by the railroads of the Western Trunk Line association, effective January 13, were suspended by the interstate commerce commission at Washington until May 11.

No party dissension, no partiality as to the nominee for president marked the Jackson day banquet at the Raleigh hotel, in Washington, attended by nearly a thousand leading Democrats from all sections of the country. Harmony brooded over the banquet board.

William Jennings Bryan was defeated in the Democratic national committee in session at Washington by a vote of 30 to 13 in his fight to prevent Col. James M. Guffey of Pennsylvania from being seated as committee member from the Keystone state. Mr. Bryan openly accused the colonel of a betrayal of his party.

The Supreme Court of the United States resumed its labors after the holiday recess with many important cases up for immediate consideration, including some concerning railway rates, the commerce court and the interstate commerce commission.

New Mexico, the forty-seventh state to enter the Union, ceased to be a territory when President Taft signed the proclamation of statehood.

The national monetary commission, after four years of study and labor, have drafted a bill to revise the currency system of the United States designed to prevent a recurrence of such unfortunate financial conditions as prevailed during the money panic of 1907.

Walter L. Fisher, secretary of the interior, made his first annual report to the president, recommending many changes in federal laws relating to land entries, irrigation, reclamation and water power sites.

The formal certificate and returns of New Mexico's first election as a prospective state has been placed in the hands of President Taft in Washington. A delegation from the new state took the papers to the White House.

Domestic

Jackson day, the anniversary of the battle of New Orleans, a legal holiday in that city, was celebrated by the United Daughters of the Confederacy at a banquet in New Orleans. A wreath was placed upon the monument of General Andrew Jackson in Jackson square. The membership of the Daughters is composed of the descendants of officers of the Revolution and the War of 1812.

John McNamara of San Francisco, known in half a dozen cities as "Australian Mack" was arrested in New York on a warrant charging him with the theft of $375,000 from the Bank of Montreal at New Westminster, B. C., which was dynamited September 14. Eleven hundred dollars was found in his wallet.

A vote in favor of a general strike of longshoremen, freight handlers, teamsters and others connected with the handling of cargoes on foreign steamships in the ports of Boston has been passed by the Knights of Labor, which has jurisdiction over such workmen.

A large automobile truck containing 42 persons comprising a wedding party, plunged over a 30-foot embankment near Bellaire, O. Two persons are dead and many injured.

Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson confessed his guilt of the murder of his former sweetheart, Avis Linnell, in a document made public in Boston by his counsel. The confession declares the accused is guilty "of the offense of which he is indicted," which is murder in the first degree.

One man was burned to death, seven others were injured, a score of men and women were rendered unconscious by the suffocating smoke; property damage of over $200,000 was entailed and one of Chicago's oldest landmarks was wiped out, when the Transit house, in the stock yards section, was razed by fire.

Indictments charging conspiracy and use of the United States mails to defraud in connection with an alleged $5,000,000 swindle were returned by the federal grand jury at New York against Julian Hawthorne, son of Nathaniel Hawthorne, the noted writer; Josiah Quincy, former mayor of Boston and assistant secretary of state under Cleveland; Dr. William J. Morton; Albert Freeman and John McKinnon.

That a trust without a name has obtained control of 90 per cent. of the business of manufacturing and selling coaster brakes for bicycles and motorcycles and a large percentage of other bicycle accessories in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law is charged in indictments handed down by a federal grand jury at Buffalo, N. Y.

James Madelan, a miner, was killed, and another, Angelo Slat, was entombed by a fall of slate at the DeCamp mine near Edwardsville, Ill. Slat was rescued.

Fifty-four cans of opium, valued at over $1,000, were found on the American-Hawaiian steamer Nebraska when it was scarcely more than a day out from San Diego, Cal.

Under instructions from Mayor Gaynor, the New York bureau of license has sent out letters to licensed dancing masters in New York forbidding instruction in such dances as the so-called "turkey trot."

At the annual dinner at Pittsburgh, Pa., of present and former officials of the Carnegie Steel Company James A. Farrell and Charles M. Schwab expressed the opinion that future prospects for the steel industry are bright.

The Havemeyer refineries of the American Sugar Refining company at Williamsburg, N. Y., have been closed and 5,000 men have been thrown out of employment. Overproduction is said to have caused the shutdown.

Miss Anne Morgan's restaurant for workmen, at the Brooklyn (N. Y.) navy yard, is proving so successful the war department may take it over.

Two unmasked men looted the mail car of the Oregon express, on the Southern Pacific, of all registered matter, and escaped, leaving the mail clerks bound in the car.

Theodore Roosevelt in an Outlook editorial warns against mastery of the United States by the courts. He advocates that momentous decisions of the various state supreme courts affecting great bodies of people shall not be accepted as final until they have been affirmed or overthrown by a vote of the people in the state affected.

Brought before United States Circuit Court Commissioner O. S. Clark, H. Montgomery Dearing, aged cashier of the Albion (Mich.) National bank, and his son, Farmer M. Dearing, who were placed under arrest at Albion, confessed that they had forged notes in the name of the bank and of the Cook Manufacturing company, of which the elder Dearing was president and the younger Dearing manager, to the sum of $144,000.

Foreign

The railroad between Shan Hai Kuan and Tientsin is now being patrolled by troops from France, Germany, Great Britain, Japan and Russia.

Seven hundred imperial troops were reported killed in a battle with revolutionists near Hankow, province of Hu-Peh, China. The imperial forces were evacuating the city when two of their trains were destroyed. From these trains 1,000 troops were making an effort to return to Hankow.

American Minister Calhoun at Peking sent a cablegram to the United States government at Washington urging that American troops be sent at once to the interior to protect the Chin Wang Tao-Peking railroad.

Sporting

Jack Johnson and Jim Flynn will box to a finish during the month of July for the heavyweight championship of the world, the bout to be held at Windward, Nev., 111 from Salt Lake City. Articles were signed at Chicago by Johnson and Jack Curley acting for Flynn to the above effect.

Personal

J. W. Yardley, vice president of the Night and Day bank of Kansas City, Kas., which has closed its doors, says confusion of the institution by its depositors with the American Union Bank and Trust company, formerly the All Night and Day bank of Kansas City, Mo., and which closed recently, caused a run the bank was not able to stand.

The remains of the late Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans were laid at rest in Arlington cemetery. A full military funeral that equaled if not excelled any seen in Washington was accorded by the navy department. President Taft, statesmen, warriors and diplomats attended the funeral services as a last tribute to one of the nation's greatest sea fighters.

from the daughter of the financier, J. P. Morgan, according to a New York dispatch.

Richard T. Crane, Sr., president of the Crane company, multi-millionaire, philanthropist, and for many years arch enemy of colleges and college education, died suddenly at his residence in Chicago, after an illness of three days. Mr. Crane was born in Pater-son, N. J., in 1832.

Claude Grahame-White, who will sail from New York for Europe this week, has decided to give up flying and devote his time to the manufacture of aeroplanes.

Dogfish.

A fisherman from Montauk Point was telling his friends of catching a huge dogfish that had a most abnormal skull. The angler operated on his ugly and worthless catch, and found in the skull all that was left of a once strong rubber band. Evidently when that big dogfish was little more than a pup he had caught the dog around his gills and turned it loose, expecting the tortured thing to die.

That recalled the story of how some fishermen not so gentle and humane as the ruling angler treat the poor but pestiferous dogfishes when they are caught. Generally there is an empty bottle handy, and this is tightly corked and tied to the tail of the fish, which is thrown back into the sea. It goes to the bottom, of course, but the steady pull of that air-filled bottle finally proves too much for its strength, and it comes wiggling up, tail first, only to go down again and repeat the performance until the wretched thing dies. Frequently, when there is no beer bottle to be had, a piece of wood will do just as well, or just as ill.

Character's Commercial Value.

Character has commercial value and sometimes men are honest according to law solely because it is polite, or polite, according to social requirements because it pays. But the honesty and courtesy of such men are not virtues. They are handmaidens of covetousness. They contribute nothing to self-respect. They have no moral content, and serve only to aid in bolstering up a vicious character. However, it is a tribute to the kingliness of character that, either for its market value or because of its inherent worth, men clothe themselves in its appearance when they do not seek the substance.

The Main Reason

The Rebman method of eye examinations is absolutely original. It is not "just like," or "just as good" as the usual eye examination you generally get. The Rebman examination stands alone distinctly different. It is an evolution from the crude methods taught years ago and developed by me from the experience gained in twenty-two years practice on over one hundred thousand eyes. It is only by comparison that we can judge the quality. That is the reason I prefer people who have tried other systems and failed to obtain results. My reputation is worth more to me than money—when you realize that money will not buy health or eyesight, and if you desire the best service, I will be pleased to consult with you.
